England have been knocked out of the 2018 ITTF Challenge Polish Open.

Three England players – Tin-Tin Ho, Kelly Sibley and Maria Tsaptsinos – each won their groups in the women's singles, but were eliminated today (Thursday) in the knockout stages.

Kelly Sibley and Maria Tsaptsinos were both defeated in the first knockout stage. Tsaptsinos (WR 350) lost out 1-4 to world-ranked 87, Miyuu Kihara (JPN), while Sibley (WR 188) lost 0-4 to world-ranked 66, Manika Batra (IND).

Ho won her first match against Brazil's Lin Gui 4-1, but was later defeated 4-1 by Japan's Hitomi Sato (WR 16).

Tsaptsinos and Ho were also both knocked out of the women's under-21s competition. Tsaptsinos was defeated by France's Oceane Guisnel, while Ho lost to Romania's Alina Zaharia.

Denise Payet also played in the competition, but was knocked out in the qualifying rounds.
