Could you be the person to organise one of the biggest competitions on the table tennis calendar?

Table Tennis England and the British League are looking for someone to take the reins of the Veterans' British League (VBL), making sure it continues to be a highlight of the season.

The role covers all the logistics around the event, which runs over two weekends per year and currently comprises 38 teams in 6 Divisions. The venue this season will once again be the Derby Arena, where the VBL takes over the infield of the velodrome, making it one of the most eye-catching venues where table tennis is played.

The successful candidate would work with the allocated Referee who organises the competition, liaising with the venue, officials, and volunteers and carrying out event administration.
