Three clubs have been selected to host the trio of prestigious National Cup tournaments this season.

Joola Plymouth, Corby Smash and Blackpool will be the respective venues for the Junior, Cadet and Under-12 versions of the event, which sees the top 10 players in the rankings play each other on a round-robin basis to decide the champions.

It is part of a commitment by Table Tennis England to take events to an increasing number of venues around the country and to use club venues where possible.

Table Tennis England Director of Sport Simon Mills said: "The National Cups are five-table tournaments and as such are perfectly suited to be hosted by clubs.

"We're delighted that Plymouth, Blackpool and Corby have the chance this season to stage these important tournaments which play a key role in the development of our young players.

"We will continue to give our clubs the chance to bid to stage events in future seasons."

It means the venues for all of Table Tennis England's major tournaments have now been confirmed as follows:
