

Bristol businesses set for battle in the Ping Pong Fight Club

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: November 14, 2018

Set against a backdrop of DJs, pop up bars, face painters and social zones, the spectacular ping pong tournament with huge prizes for the victors is on its way to Bristol.

Ping Pong Fight Club is the ultimate team building activity. Unlike any other inter-company, networking event it's a raucous night of table tennis that sees company teams competing against each other in a series of challenges and championships.

Ping Pong Fight Club has gathered momentum over the past year with 6 cities playing host to the event with 8 planned for next year including Ping Pong Fight Club Takeover (which is open to the public).

The companies that take part in Ping Pong Fight Club report that they enjoy its energy, competitiveness and sociability: all of which combine to make it such an outstanding experience for companies wanting to nurture team bonding, or just treat their staff to a great night out.

If you want to give your company the edge, enter an all-female team. Ping Pong Fight Club has teamed up with Table Tennis England to help attract more women into the sport, so we're offering free coaching sessions with a professional table tennis coach Craig Bryant to any all-female team.

From small groups of 14 people to big teams of 100+, Ping Pong Fight Club caters for businesses of every shape and size.

The next event is on Thursday 22nd November at Paintworks, Bristol – there's still time, so get your entries in now and we're offering 10% discount on your team's entry – just follow this link.

Here's a taster of what you can expect on the night, filmed at the recent event in Manchester

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/local-news/bristol-business-set-for-battle-in-the-ping-pong-fight-club/>