

England's Euro draw revealed

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: December 19, 2018

England discovered their opponents for the second phase of the European Championships campaign in today's draw.

The men, who finished second behind Serbia in their first-stage group, will face Ukraine, Italy and Estonia in the second stage. England women, group winners in the first stage, will be up against Spain and Belgium.

The ties will be played on the weekend of May 18 and 19, 2019 at a venue to be confirmed. Two countries will go forward from each group to qualify for the 2019 European Championships in Nantes, France, from September 3-8.

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/englands-euro-draw-revealed/>