It is time for local leagues to get their entries in for the oldest domestic competitions in English table tennis, the English Leagues Cup Competitions (ELCC).

There are four team competitions in total, including the Willmott Cup for Senior Men, which was first contested in 1935, and the JM Rose Bowl for Senior Women, which followed in 1939.

The Carter Cup for Junior Boys and the Bromfield Trophy for Junior Girls are also part of the ELCC. All four competitions are open to affiliated local leagues, who play each other initially in zonal rounds in April before the finals, which will be held at Wellingborough in June.
