

Wolverhampton Grand Prix draw released

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: April 01, 2019

Jiawang Song goes in search of his fourth Grand Prix title of the season at the Wolverhampton Grand Prix this weekend.

Song, who has a 100% record in the Men's Singles having won in Crawley, Preston and Bath so far this season, is top seed for the event, ahead of Russian player Grigory Vlasov. England's Mike O'Driscoll and Ryan Owen of Wales complete the top four seeds.

In the Women's Singles, both players to have won events this year are in the field. Hannah Hicks, the winner at Crawley, is the top seed, while Preston and Bath winner Anna Hursey of Wales is ranked No 4. Between them are Haoyu (Jenny) Liu and Mollie Patterson.

Click here to see the event programme including the draw

Click here to enter the Jersey Satellite Grand Prix or the London Grand Prix

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/wolverhampton-grand-prix-draw-released/>