National #TableTennisDay is just TWO days away and our Team England stars are challenging you to take them on!

England's top players have taken part in a series of challenges so you can see how your skills stack up against them.

So, can you beat England's best?

First up is Olympian and Commonwealth Games medallist Sam Walker with the self-returning serve challenge!

Watch the video below to find out how many times Walker managed to get the ball to bounce back over the net (on his first attempt!).

Then it's your turn! Think you can beat him? Pick up your phone or a camera, press record and see what your score is. Everyone who takes part – regardless of your score – has a chance of winning a prize!

All you need to do is post your video attempt on Twitter or Instagram using the hashtag #TableTennisDay on the day itself – Thursday, July 18th – and you will be automatically entered into the prize draw!

We'll be giving out prizes on social media throughout the day for those who post using the hashtag #TableTennisDay.

Among the prizes up for grabs are:

- A visit by a Team England star to your school / club / workplace
- A Commonwealth Games t-shirt signed by the 2018 squad, featuring: Liam Pitchford, Paul Drinkhall & Sam Walker, David McBeath, Ross Wilson, Kim Daybell, Tin-Tin Ho, Maria Tsaptsinos, Denise Payet, Kelly Sibley &

Felicity Pickard

- A National Table Tennis Day t-shirt signed by Olympians Liam Pitchford, Paul Drinkhall & Sam Walker
- Table tennis clothing
- Tees Sport vouchers

Don't forget to keep an eye out on our website and social media channels because another challenge will be released tomorrow! On Wednesday you can watch England No.1, Liam Pitchford, take on a trick-shot challenge.
