Table Tennis England has launched a new collection of official clothing for table tennis fanatics.

The new range allows table tennis players and fans the chance to show off their passion for the sport wherever they are – with the new ranges including, sportswear, casualwear and smarter-wear.

Launched in partnership with Tailored Branding, the shop offers a series of table tennis themed t-shirts, hoodies, shorts, trousers and softshell jackets. The clothing comes in a range of sizes, including men's, women's and children's fits.

Part of the range has been on display at a number of events this year, including the PG Mutual Senior National Championships and the 2019 National Conference, and has been well received by attendees. As a result, the designs have now been released to the public.

You can browse the new range on Tailored Branding's website by clicking here.

If you require any of the range in a size not listed, please contact us.
