

Preston Grand Prix entries open

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: August 09, 2019

Entries for the first Grand Prix of the season, in Preston, are now open.

The competition is at the popular Sir Tom Finney Sports Centre at the University of Central Lancashire on the weekend of September 21 and 22.

Banded events will take place on the Saturday, with the open singles and Under-21 and Veterans' events on the Sunday.

Click here for more information and to download an entry form. Entries are by paper entry form only at present.

Preston is the first of five main and two satellite Grand Prix events during the 2019-20 season, with the second event at Hatfield in October. The University of Hertfordshire Sports Village is new to the Grand Prix circuit this year but is a well-known table tennis venue, including hosting the 2016 PG Mutual National Championships.

The circuit also returns to WV Active Aldersley for the Wolverhampton Grand Prix next March and to the Jean Brown Arena for the Redbridge Grand Prix in May. A further main Grand Prix will be added in June at a venue to be confirmed.

Satellite events take place in Cardiff just before Christmas and at Jersey over the Easter weekend.

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/preston-grand-prix-entries-open/>