

Will Bayley World No.2

Author: Russell Moore

Posted On: January 14, 2011

We've just had Will Bayley on the phone talking about his improved ranking in the January ranking list, he has now world number 2, an extremely impressive achievement, but he is not planning on stopping there!

"I am delighted to be so high in the world and now I am ready to make a big impact at London 2012! I hope to maintain my ranking although the world no1 spot could be mine by this time next year!"

Tony Alvarez has also been talking to Will recently and has done another top interview, click here to read it.
