

Tight Tussle In All Brotherhood Clash

The players of Brotherhood K are proving an excellent addition to the Clacton and District Table Tennis League and, in their first season, are on the fringes of the Division Three promotion race.

This week they met third-placed Brotherhood G and, in a hard-fought encounter where no player stayed unbeaten and five of the matches went close in five, they narrowly lost 6-4, a repeat score of their early season match.

The "K" team's Dan Malinowski had a tough evening, beating Ian Porter 11-9 in the fifth but losing 12-10 in the fifth to James Smith-Daye and 11-9 in the decider to Rowan Cottee.

Barry Allen picked up two wins and, with Malinowski, shared an 11-4, 5-11, 11-9, 4-11, 11-9 doubles victory over Smith-Daye and Porter but two singles wins each for Smith-Daye, Cottee and Porter were enough to ensure the "G" side their 6-4 success.

At the very top, Windsor Magpies marched on with a 10-0 victory over Nomads Leopards whilst Nomads Lynx, forced to play with a guest player in their 7-3 win over Brotherhood L, remain second.

Malcolm Caley was the only undefeated player as Windsor Swallows beat Brotherhood I 8-2, his treble including a 9-11, 10-12, 12-10, 13-11, 11-6 victory over Brian Baines, although Baines played well to inflict defeat on both Iris Howlett and Sue Watson.

Nomads Pumas beat Windsor Penguins 9-1, Ray Chillingworth taking Windsor's point with a win over John Houghton, but the Kites failed to trouble the scorer against Brotherhood H, losing 10-0.

In Division One Brotherhood A beat Brotherhood B 9-1 with both Greg Green and Kieran Lally – making a first Clacton League appearance for four years – staying undefeated, Martin Edwards' 11-9 in the fifth win over Alan Burgess the losers' sole point.

Every player got a point when Windsor Eagles played Red Triangle B but three from Fred Button were central to the Eagles' 7-3 victory, Button and Smith's 12-10 in the decider doubles win against Gavin Price and Graham Buxton the closest match of the evening.

Colin Webber and George Kalli of Nomads Panthers also had a close doubles win over James Denyer and Daniel Prior, 11-8, 9-11, 11-7, 10-12, 11-9, but hat-tricks from Denyer and Mark Smith saw Windsor Roosters to a 7-3 victory.

There were trebles, too, for David Hall and Jason Gale as Red Triangle A defeated Windsor Falcons 8-2, the same score by which Windsor Condors beat Lawford although Lawford's Ian Sherwood will feel pleased with his wins over Stewart Murray and Jim Pallett.

Nomads Jaguars did well to draw their match with Walton A with Kevin James unbeaten, Paul Woolnough taking an unexpected point against Colin Dearman and the pair recording a doubles win over Dearman and Matthew Watson.

In Division Two Brotherhood F beat a two-man Brotherhood C 6-4, the "C" team losing their first match of the season as well as their hundred per cent doubles record, Laurence Torr and Kevin Pryor going down 12-10 in the fifth to Shaun Beckham and John Wrigley.

Terry Kirby suffered a rare defeat against Windsor Owls but, despite Dave Martin's hat-trick, Nomads Cougars took the match 7-3, Windsor's Barry Howe unlucky not to pick up a point, narrowly going down 12-10 in the fifth to Colin Beaumont.

Walton B defeated Nomads Tigers 8-2, Sam Buxton and David North unbeaten, whilst there were hat-tricks also for John Harvey and Russell Hillier in 6-4 wins for Windsor Ravens and Brotherhood D over Nomads Lions and Windsor Harriers respectively.

Finally, Brotherhood E's plight at the bottom was not helped by their 10-0 defeat at the hands of leaders Windsor Kestrels who, in the process, notched up over a hundred points for the season.

* In Division One of the Super-Veterans' Section of the Essex Inter-League, Clacton A lost three of the four matches that went close in five and so went down 6-3 to Brentwood, Colin Dearman and George Kalli each taking one singles and sharing a doubles win.
