

Fred Perry Urban Cup 2011

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: February 02, 2011

Darius Knight and Former England International and Arsenal legend Nigel Winterburn, took part in a media launch today at the Emirates Stadium promoting the finals of the Fred Perry Urban Cup, which will be held at the London Business Design Centre in Islington this Saturday.

The finals are the culmination of months of competition for thousands of young people competing in school and community Table Tennis clubs involved in the Premier League 4 Sport programme. The event sponsored by Fred Perry and supported with funding from the Sport England's Sportsmatch programme, will see 20 boys and girls teams representing the FC clubs, converge on the BDC centre to battle it out for boys, girls and overall team titles.

See "Bringing Table Tennis and Football together" and interview with Darius on the Daily Telegraph website.

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/fred-perry-urban-cup-2011/>