

Four new directors at BPTT

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: July 20, 2020

Martin Clark, John Timms, Catherine Willcocks and Rebecca Hembrough were appointed recently to the Board of British Para Table Tennis (BPTT).

The four Independent directors take up four-year terms and all bring skills that will complement and strengthen the current Board. The positions were advertised with interviews taking place after a shortlisting process. Specific areas of expertise sought included Finance, Governance, Competition / Events and Performance Sport.

Martin Clark is joining the Finance Committee, with over 40 years working in an accountancy practice. He has considerable experience in industry, private practice and in a voluntary capacity in financial management with Table Tennis England, European Table Tennis Union and ITTF. Martin has been involved in table tennis from grassroots to governing bodies, bringing a wealth of experience and knowledge to BPTT.

John Timms has strong links directly with Sheffield City Region community and the business community and brings with him 25 years of major event management and operational experience, working with national and international governing bodies across Olympic and Paralympic Sports. He will be joining the Competitions Committee.

Catherine Willcocks brings a range of knowledge and skills through a career in Internal Audit, Risk Management and Compliance. She has a broad experience in understanding organisational strategies, objectives and governance strategies across a wide range of industries and organisation sizes in both the public and private sector, latterly specialising in financial services. Catherine has sat as a trustee on various charity committees and is currently a Global Compliance Director at J.P. Morgan Asset Management. She will be joining the Governance Committee.

Rebecca Hembrough is the Performance Manager for women's golf at England Golf. Rebecca has over a decade of experience working in performance sport. In the beginning as a sport psychologist as part of a multi-disciplinary sport and exercise science team at Sheffield Hallam University. She will be joining the Performance Committee.

The appointments bring the number of directors of British Para Table Tennis to 10. British Para Table Tennis Chairman, Karen Tonge MBE said: "I am delighted to welcome four new members to our Board and look forward to working together as we continue to develop our new four-year strategy, leading to the Paris 2024 Paralympic Games and beyond. We have developed a dynamic and exciting Board, with a wide range of skills to drive the organisation forward."

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/four-new-directors-at-bptt/>