

Women's British League: Weekend 1 cancelled

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: August 21, 2020

The first weekend of the Women's British League is the latest event to be cancelled as a result of the coronavirus restrictions.

Teams were due to gather for the event on October 17-18 but, in accordance with the Table Tennis England coronavirus cancellation policy, the event has been called off eight weeks before the scheduled dates.
