

Listen: Sara's wide-ranging BBC interview

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: October 21, 2020

Table Tennis England Chief Executive Sara Sutcliffe MBE has given a wide-ranging interview with the Women's Sport Show on BBC Radio London.

Sara spoke at length with presenter Jeanette Kwakye, a former Team GB sprinter who reached the 100m final at the Beijing 2008 Olympics.

They covered a variety of topics, including talking about the work of Greenhouse Sports to bring table tennis to youngsters across the capital, and Sara's recent receipt of an MBE in the Queen's Birthday Honours.

Also covered in the discussion were female ambassadors and participation, TT Kidz, the Every Sport Matters campaign and representing England in international governance circles.

Click here to listen to the interview – it is the opening part of the show, immediately after the news bulletin, with the interview beginning at 4min 16sec.

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/listen-saras-wide-ranging-bbc-interview/>