The buzz for indoor table tennis is back as adults sessions restart at clubs up and down the country this week!

As of May 17th, play was allowed to restart indoors for adults – and many clubs have wasted little time in getting back into the swing of things.

Table tennis also features in the latest Sport England Return to Play video:

There are still some restrictions including capacity limits and social distancing – click here to read our latest guidance statement.

Here are some of the photos, videos and social media posts from clubs around the country – email yours to marketing@tabletennisengland.co.uk
