

Team GB athletes reflect on the Olympics

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: July 30, 2021

Team GB athletes Liam Pitchford, Paul Drinkhall and Tin-Tin Ho and coach Gavin Evans have been reflecting on their Tokyo Olympics experience.

The quartet have already returned to the UK as, under covid protocols, team members have to leave the Olympic Village within 48 hours of finishing competing.

Here, the athletes and coach analyse their Games and what they can learn from them as competitions begin to resume, with a European Championships on the horizon in September and the Worlds in Houston in November – plus of course a home Commonwealth Games in Birmingham next year.
