The workshop will provide you with the opportunity to learn the rules of table tennis, the basic technique and some fun and engaging game ideas. It will also give you some tips to ensure inclusivity, allowing everyone to participate regardless of their age, gender, health or ability.

The workshop is split into five modules covering;

- The basics of table tennis
- Multiplayer game ideas
- How to make sessions inclusive
- Evaluating sessions
- Summary including pathways for participants in table tennis

The workshop will take approximately an hour to complete.

The Return to the Table campaign running this summer aims to get people back to playing, coaching, officiating and volunteering with confidence, passion and motivation. If your club or organisation would like to get involved, you can download the Return to the Table digital toolkit which contains lots of useful resources for re-engaging your community back to table tennis.

You can also join many other clubs and organisations in running a celebration event between 30th August to 13th September. We're encouraging clubs, leagues, coaches and community venues to run their own open days, club competitions or any activity that can build confidence or motivate people to play, volunteer, coach or officiate. This could be something to foster the competitive spirit among those players who have returned, re-engage members who have not yet returned to the sport, or to encourage new players who took up table tennis at home during the pandemic to move into club play.
