Senior Six Nations

The Senior Six Nations starts in two weeks in Basildon, Essex with all the home nations taking part to play for the title of Six Nations Champions.

Competitors from England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Guernsey and the Isle of Man will provide each other with a stern challenge at the Basildon Sporting Village.

Running from Friday 11th November to Sunday 13th November, the event will see top home grown talent battle it out for their country in the last senior tournament before the arrival of the ITTF Pro Tour Grand Finals at ExCeL in London later this month.

Hosts England will be represented by Darius Knight, Chris Doran, Hannah Hicks and Emily Bates while their toughest opponents will include Ryan Jenkins from Wales, Paul McCreery from Ireland, Craig Howieson from Scotland, Guernsey based Alice Loveridge and Scottish player Corinna Whitaker.

While the English players will remain the favourites you can expect their counterparts to be lining up a few shocks on the card before the weekend is up.

Entry to the event for spectators is free and begins at 6pm Friday before finishing at 4pm on the Sunday.
