

Watch the School Games at the Olympic Venues this Bank Holiday

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: May 04, 2012

This bank holiday Monday why not head to the table tennis Olympic venue to watch the School Games as young players from across Britain fight for the team titles at ExCeL.

With a number of top cadet players in action there could be some real high-class table tennis produced. With the teams made up of regional players why don't you support your region on their way to the title?

Tickets are available for the 2012 School Games at the Olympic venue of ExCeL in London's Royal Docklands.

Tickets to view all the events at ExCeL are FREE and will be available from the ticket desk at ExCeL from Monday morning.

For a preview of this year's games, the schedule and the full and updated list of players click here.

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/watch-the-school-games-this-bh/>