Helshan Weerasinghe won three of his four cadet boys singles matches, including a victory over the European number 5, as the 2012 European Youth Championships got underway in Schwechat, Austria.

The EYC begins with the team events and the cadet boys faced a daunting challenge in Sweden in their first match. Although they lost 3-1, Weerasinghe, Europe's number 22, was on fine form to pick up a big shock.

He beat the European number 5, Anton Kallberg 3-1 (13-11, 12-10, 6-11, 11-6) before then taking the European number 6, Simon Berglund to five games in a 3-2 (11-9, 10-12, 11-8, 5-11, 11-6) defeat.

He also won both his matches against Hungary, but with the boys 3-2 loss overall it doesn't look as though they will reach the latter stages.

The cadet girls will also struggle after falling disappointingly to Latvia 3-0 in their group, which contains just three teams. Defeats for Tin-Tin Ho and Maria Tsaptsinos in the singles and for Ho and Lois Peake in the doubles leaves them precariously placed.

In the junior competitions it was role-reversal for the two English sides as the boys recovered from an opening defeat to a strong Czech team to beat Romania 3-2, while the girls, after beating San Marino 3-0, fell at the death to Switzerland in another 3-2 match.

The girls will feel unfortunate in their defeat after leading 2-0 at one stage before the Swiss fought back to snatch the win at the end.

However, the boys were elated after Lewis Gray sealed a dramatic final game to beat the Romanians.

After the first four matches were shared 2-2 it came down to Gray against Alin Marian Spelbus for the victory. It didn't look good when the Grantham player fell 2-1 behind but he held his nerve in an incredible fashion as he won both the fourth and fifth games 12-10.
