

Design your own paddle with Uberpong

Author: Russell Moore

Posted On: January 25, 2013

Do you fancy designing your own paddle? Uberpong, the Austin-based startup aims to enhance the game by allowing customers to have any design printed on their ping pong paddles.

David Lowe, Uberpong Founder and CEO, said: "We wanted to be a company that is known for listening to its customers and community members. When we got early feedback from customers asking us to launch a section of the site for custom ping pong paddles, we had to make it happen. Now you can have any design you want printed on your paddle so you can play with style."

Each custom paddle is $80 and can be created here: <http://uberpong.com/custom-paddles>

If you are a graphic designer and would like to join the Uberpong design community, please go here: <http://uberpong.com/join-the-design-community/> or contact David Lowe (dave@uberpong.com)

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/design-your-own-paddle-with-uberpong/>