Last year's finalists Ryan Jenkins (r) and Filip Szymanski (l) with Bribar Director Mike Chapman

The Bribar London Grand Prix is a month away (May 25–26th) but the closing date is next week, so it's time to get off your hind horses and get into the game!

As the penultimate Grand Prix of the season, big points are on offer for those in search of those final big money places before the Bribar Medway Grand Prix closes the campaign off in June.

Last year, perhaps ominously, it was the winners of the overall Men's and Women's singles titles who were also triumphant at the Redbridge Sports Centre. Ryan Jenkins and Yuko Tsuji both won in 2012 to take a big step towards claiming their titles at the end of the campaign.

Jenkins beat Filip Szymanski (POL) 3–2 (11–9, 12–14, 9–11, 11–6, 11–5) while Tsuji beat Charlotte Carey (WAL) 3–0 (11–7, 11–6, 11–3).

To enter yourself into this year's Bribar London Grand Prix, simply download the entry form from the link below and send it off before the closing date on May 6th.
