

Women's British League News

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: September 28, 2013

It's ladies weekend in the British League spectrum as the Women's British League season gets underway.

36 teams will battle it out in six divisions as Ormesby look to reign supreme for a second consecutive year in the Premier Division.

Check out our dedicated website here for results, news and interviews, or follow us on Twitter @BritishLeague to keep up with all the action.

Internet Connectivity

We have experienced a number of technical issues this weekend that are beyond our control. They have restricted our ability to regularly update this site and our dedicated British League website, as well as upload photos and video interviews. We apologise for any inconvenience caused.

Interviews

Radford on life after relegation

Updates

Round One Report

Round Two Report

Round Three Report

Round Four

Round Five

Matthew Shaw

British League Press & Publicity Team

September 28, 2013

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/womens-british-league-news-3/>