

Scunthorpe aiming for a grand prize fund

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: January 09, 2015

Competitors at the Scunthorpe 1* later this month could be battling for a share of £1,000.

Tournament organiser Andy Kelly is aiming for the four-figure prize fund – but needs to reach the minimum target of 48 entries first.

The prize would be a significant increase on the £670 fund at September's corresponding tournament.

All players are guaranteed a minimum of 7 matches at the event, on Saturday January 31.

There is a full range of events including boys and girls' singles, intermediates (over-18 and under-40), ladies, vets, men and the unique prizefighter event.

Click here for an entry form

For more details, contact Andy Kelly via andykelly@scunthorpetabletennis.co.uk

Paul Stimpson

January 9, 2015

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/scunthorpe-aiming-for-a-grand-prize-fund/>