

Friday Photos No 33: Who is wearing the three leopards?

Once again thank you to everyone who replied giving information on last week's pictures. There certainly seems to be a wide audience out there who look regularly from the number of responses I get.

As well as lots of photographs that still need identifying there are also many videos that need transferring on to DVDs. Some are of professional productions whilst others are homemade or taken from television, so the quality is very variable.

Is there anyone who would like to help with the task of transferring these to a format that can be used today as well as having the privilege of seeing some remarkable old footage?

Now, on to this week's pictures.

Photo 1

The player has the England three leopards on his shirt (and they are leopards, not lions) and it is understood this was taken at the 63rd English Open held at Potter's Leisure Resort, Norfolk in 1999. But who is the player?

Photo 2

This was probably taken at the first Grand Prix in Bath as Yasaka were the make of tables used there and the background looks similar to other photos identified as being taken at that event. Again, who is the player?

Photo 3

Player unknown. This and the next two photos were taken by Bevan Walker at a Junior National Championships, but which one and where need identifying.

Photo 4

At the same event as Photo 3, Mark Smith is on the left with Tony Chatwin having made the presentation but who is the other player?

As Photo 3 with regard to the photographer and event. Nicola Deaton is second from the left but the other players are unknown.
