The English Leagues Cup Competition has this season had its best entry for many years and some of the most competitive and close matches there have been in a long while.

The teams in the Wilmott Cup, JM Rose Bowl and Carter Cup are worthy qualifiers for the finals and although there were insufficient entries in the Bromfield Trophy to play any qualifying matches, it looks as if there will be some tough matches for the girls in the finals.

These are to be held at Westfield Table Tennis Club, Wellingborough, Northamptonshire on June 13 and 14, the Wilmott Cup and JM Rose Bowl on Saturday and the junior events, Carter Cup and Bromfield Trophy on Sunday.

I would like to express my appreciation to all those leagues who supported the competition this year and all who hosted zonal rounds. Without the co-operation of leagues arranging the venues, the competition could not run. Thanks also to Zach Ferris at Table Tennis England for his help and support.
