Last week's pictures were generally some of the older images that are held by Table Tennis England. Nonetheless there were some positive responses which were much appreciated.

Photo 1

John Wright, Referee, at the World Championships, 1977, making preparations. Roy Evans is to his right and Tony Brooks next to him. Len Pilditch, with his head bent at the end of the table, is working industriously and Colin Clemett is updating the draw on the board. The two gentleman seated on the right are press representatives.
