Author: Paul Stimpson

One for the boys this week. Same event as last week's images and a couple of faces are recognised. Any information on the missing names and teams would be much appreciated.

I received a number of replies for last week's pictures. One even went via New Zealand so it seems there is an international audience for these pictures. Thank you to everyone who has contacted me.

Don't forget that the whole series, which started September 2014, can be found under the 'Our Sport' section on the website.
