

Friday Photos No 48: Do you know these players?

I hope you have enjoyed looking at some of our champions over the last few weeks. I will intersperse some similar features in the weeks ahead, in between unknown images and others which have been sent in and are of interest.

For this week, it's back to photographs which need identifying, starting with the ladies. These are probably from the Women's British League but if you know the players, date and venue this would help confirm.

If anyone has any pictures of a national or international interest I would love to hear from you and can be contacted on DianeK1414@hotmail.co.uk
