

South Shields Grand prix – enter now!

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: November 05, 2015

The Grand Prix Series moves back to the north of the country with a stop in South Shields next month – and there is just over two weeks left to get your entry in!

The fourth event in the series, at the Temple Park Centre on December 12 and 13, is sure to prove popular, with a healthy contingent also likely to travel from Scotland.

Indeed, last year's men's winner came from north of the border, Craig Howieson defeating eventual series champion Chris Doran in the final. The Women's Singles went to Emma Vickers, who beat Abbie Milwain.

As ever, Banded events will take place on the Saturday, with Open events on the Sunday.

Entries close on Sunday November 22 – click here to download an entry form or enter online via the membership portal by clicking here

Click here for more information on the Grand Prix series, including current standings and future venues.

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/archived/south-shields-grand-prix-enter-now/>