What is 'Change4Life Sports Club' (C4LSC)? ▼

What is 'Change4Life Sports Club' (C4LSC)?

'Change4Life Sports Club' (C4LSC) is a programme being run by Youth Sport Trust (YST) and Sport England (SE) in conjunction with the School Sport Partnerships (SSPs) and in turn the NGBs in order to develop a new 'breed' of fun focused clubs on School and College sites across England within 7 Olympic and Paralympic sports – including Table Tennis. The focus of these clubs will be to engage and increase participation among young people (13-19) who are currently not involved in '3rd hour' sporting activities.

How does C4LSC work?

The C4LSCs new 'breed' of fun focused clubs seeks to further narrow the gap between national curriculum and out of school hours learning and community sport. The clubs are aimed at young people (13-19), who currently do not engage in sporting activity outside of the standard 2 hours of national curriculum physical education, and will look to attract and engage them by developing a sense of belonging within a club setting and encourage the regular participation that is associated with future community club membership and lifelong sporting involvement.

How do I/does my School/College get involved in the C4LSC programme?

All Schools and Colleges selected for the C4LSC programme were contacted directly by the SSPs. In order to see if your School/College is involved with the C4LSC programme, please contact your PDM who will advise you.

Initially we only require your facilities for one day, to cover the duration of the 5 hour course. In the future, should we be struggling for host sites, we may contact your school again to request use of your facilities a second time.
