

Time to get your England Leopards tickets!

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: August 23, 2016

England Leopards women are ready to get on the European Championships qualifying trail – and you can now book tickets to cheer them on!

Slovenia are the opposition for the first home qualifying tie on Tuesday November 22 and with barely anything between the two nations in the world rankings, it promises to be a thriller.

England, who can choose from the likes of Commonwealth Games medallists Tin-Tin Ho and Kelly Sibley, will be looking to make home advantage count for the tie at Medway Park in Gillingham (6pm start).

Ticket prices start at just £3 and premium seats are also available for the best view in the house.

What is more, Table Tennis England members can enjoy a 10% earlybird discount during the first week of sales.

If you have already paid your 2016/17 membership fee, you will receive a discount code to enter when you buy tickets online. If you haven't yet become a member for 2016/17, don't miss out on this opportunity – you will be sent the discount code if you join before 11.59pm on Sunday August 28.

Don't forget, tickets for the Leopards men's first home clash against Greece in Stoke on November 1 are already on sale.

To buy tickets for either match, click here

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/featured-news/time-to-get-your-england-leopards-tickets/>