

Knight and Le Fevre take top titles at Crawley

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: September 25, 2016

Darius Knight and Karina Le Fevre took the singles titles at the Crawley Grand Prix.

Both had been beaten in the semi-finals of the first Grand Prix of the season in Liverpool but went one better to reach the final, and then completed the job by lifting the trophies.

The next stop in the 2016/17 Grand Prix series is Tipton on October 15-16. Click here to enter.

We are also taking entries now for the Blackpool Grand Prix on November 19-20. Click here for more information.

Men's Singles

Darius Knight was the champion of the Men's Singles.

Prior to the final Knight had worked his way through his previous rounds with relative ease. His opponent Michael Tauber put up a determined fight which saw the players tied after two sets. Knight managed to clinch the third 11-7 which led to an exhilarating fourth in which the players exchanged points in a nervy game with Tauber pushing to take the game the distance.

However, in the end it was Knight who came through, winning the fourth end 15-13 and taking the match 3-1.

Winner Darius Knight (right) and runner-up Michael Tauber (left)

Women's Singles

Both Karina Le Fevre and Emily Bolton looked strong heading into the final with neither player having dropped a set in their previous rounds.

Bolton came out of the gates fastest, winning the first 11-7. Le Fevre managed to pull the match back to 1-1, only for Bolton to once again take the lead.

However, after a tense and incredibly close fourth end Le Fevre managed to take control of the game, edging it 13-11 before a commanding 11-1 fifth game to win the match.

Under-21 Men's Singles

Jack Bennett was victorious over Ethan Walsh in the final. The older player got his nose in front by winning the first two, and although Walsh pulled back a tight third, Bennett completed his victory in the fourth.

Winner Jack Bennett (right) and runner-up Ethan Walsh

Under-21 Women's Singles

Emily Bolton won her second competition and capped a fantastic weekend with a dominant victory over Letitia

McMullan.

Having won the Women's band 1 on Saturday and taken runner-up in the Women's Singles on Sunday morning, Bolton closed out the day with another fine performance and a 3-0 win.

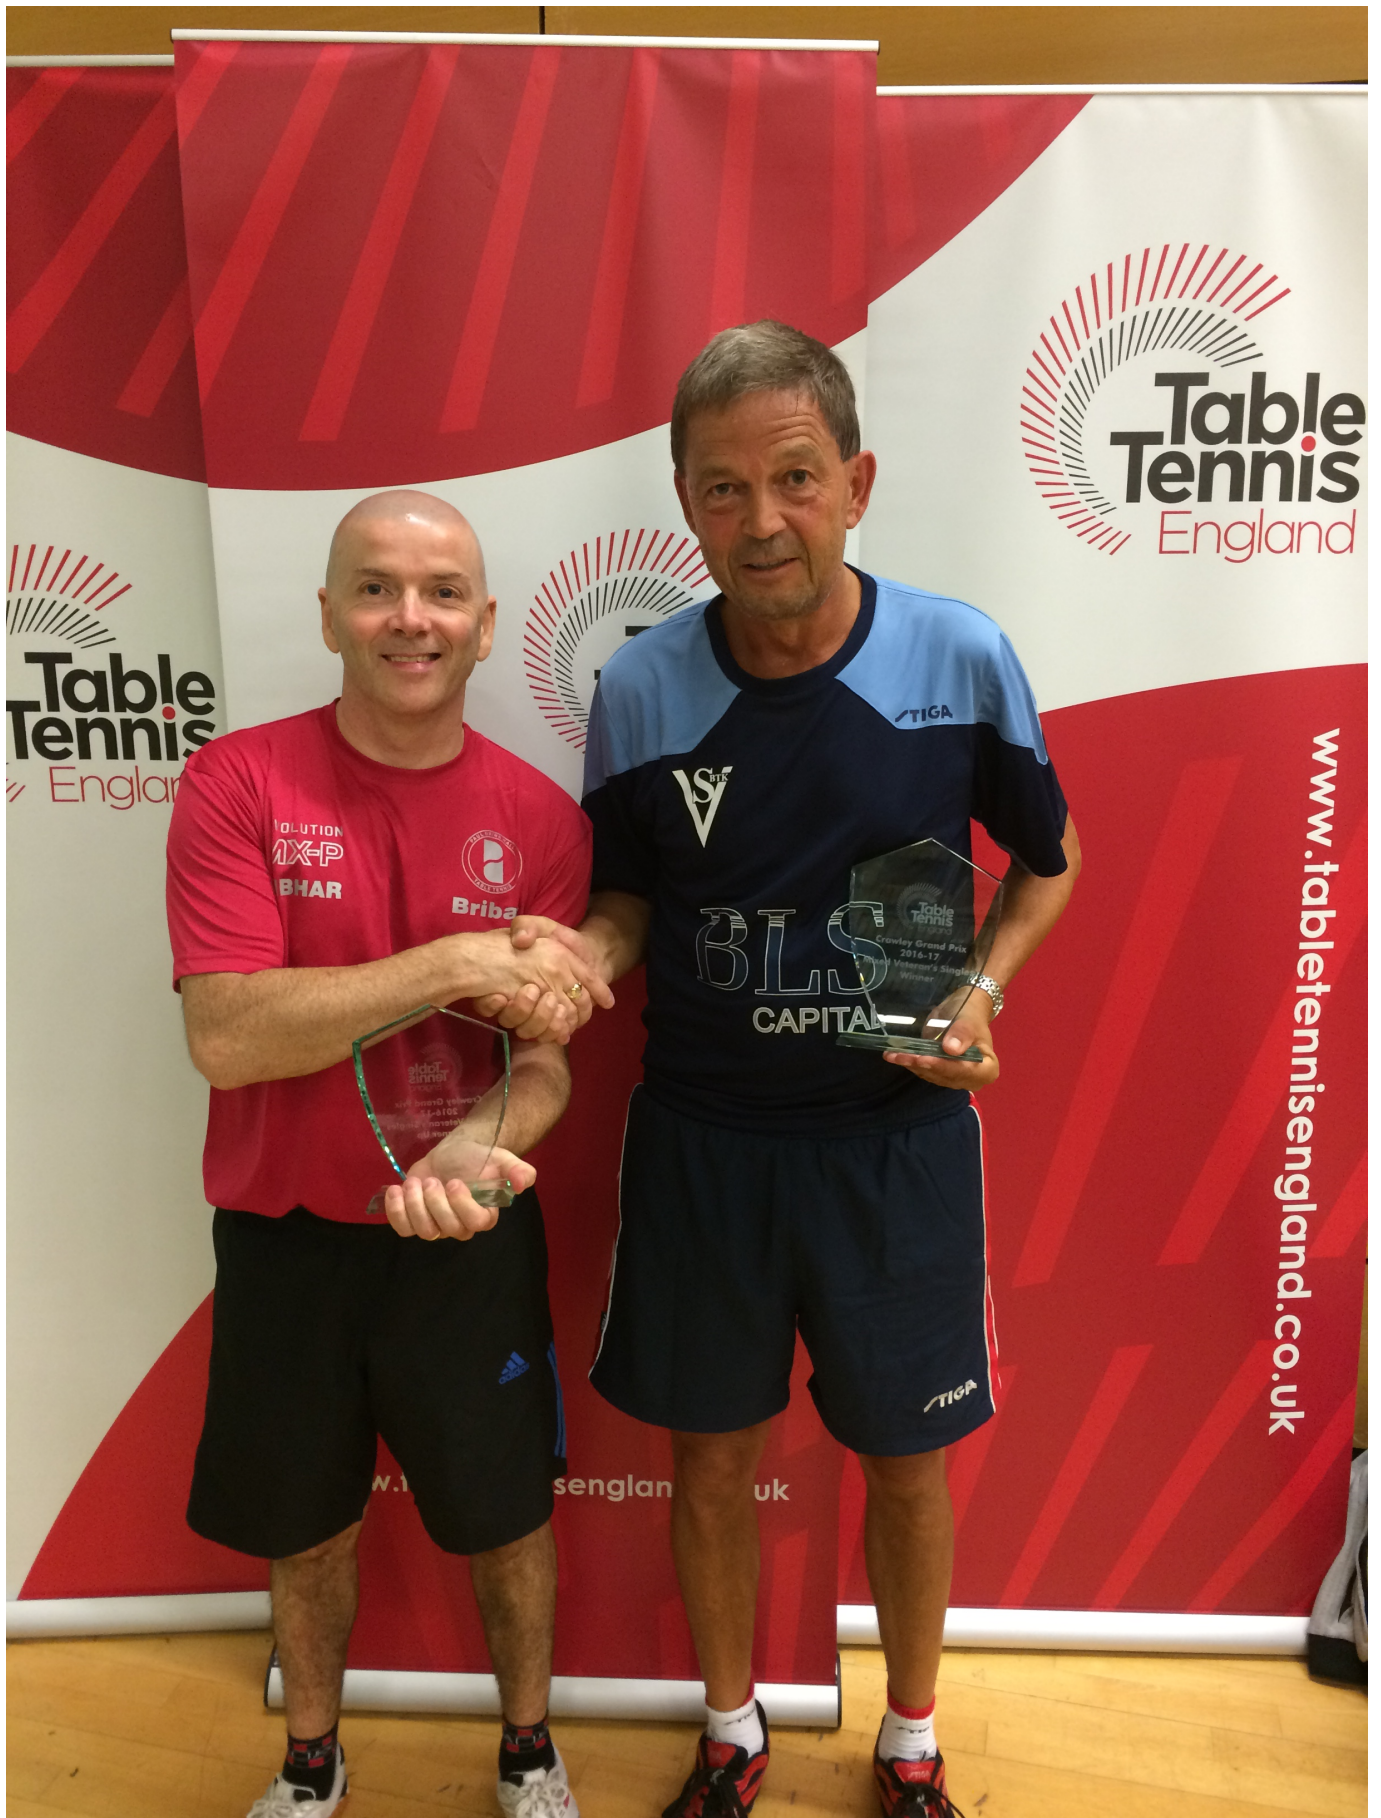

Winner Emily Bolton (left) and runner-up Letitia McMullan (right)

Veterans' Singles

Jannik Larsen took the honours in the Veterans' class, beating Jimmy Walsh in four ends.

The Dane took the first two sets with a score of 11-8. Walsh pulled back the third in what looked to spark a potential comeback, but Larsen took back control with a strong fourth set and closed out the final for a 3-1 win.

Winner Jannik Larsen (right) and runner-up Jimmy Walsh (left)

Men's Singles

Darius Knight (Sy) bt Michael Tauber (ISR) 3-1 (11-9, 7-11, 11-7, 15-13)

Women's Singles

Karina Le Fevre (Cv) bt Emily Bolton (La) 3-2 (7-11, 11-8, 9-11, 13-11, 11-1)

Under 21 Men's Singles

Jack Bennett (Sx) bt Ethan Walsh (He) 3-1 (11-8, 11-5, 10-12, 11-9)

Under 21 Women's Singles

Emily Bolton (La) bt Letitia McMullun (Ha) 3-0 (11-8, 11-2, 11-8)

Mixed Veteran Singles

Jannik Larsen (DEN) bt Jimmy Walsh (He) 3-1 (11-8, 11-8, 5-11, 11-5)

Player of the Weekend

Joe Walker (E)

Player of the Weekend: Joe Walker

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/featured-news/crawley-grand-prix-day-two-report/>