

Le Fevre and Knight lead Blackpool field

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: November 11, 2016

Karina Le Fevre will be aiming to strengthen her lead at the top of the Grand Prix standings at the latest stop of the series in Blackpool.

With none of the next four in the league table due to take part in Blackpool, it gives an opportunity to the current leader and three-time overall champion.

But she will have to contend with fellow England international Hannah Hicks, as well as Emma Vickers, who are both making their first appearances of the season.

On the men's side, this year's Crawley GP champion Darius Knight leads the entries and, barring disaster, should overtake the absent Chris Doran at the top of the standings.

Click here to see the event programme, including the draw.

To see the updated standings in all categories, click here

Don't forget, entries are open for the Cardiff Satellite Grand Prix in December, and the first Grand Prix of 2017, in Cleveland. Click below for details.

Cardiff Satellite Grand Prix

Cleveland Grand Prix

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/featured-news/le-fevre-and-knight-lead-blackpool-field/>