It's time to book your place at the flagship event of English table tennis!

Tickets for the PG Mutual National Championships are on sale from today – this is YOUR chance to see the best players in the land going head-to-head for the right to call themselves National Champion 2016/17.

Paul Drinkhall and Tin-Tin Ho will be going all out to retain the singles titles they won last year, but there are plenty of other players who will have their eyes on the prizes when the action starts at the David Ross Sports Village in Nottingham.

Following on from the success of last year, the best para players in the land will once again be joining the party, with three men's categories and one for women, featuring world and Paralympic medallists.

With the top 32 men and women and under-21 players all competing in search of national glory, it's shaping up to be the best PG Mutual National Championships in memory and an event that no table tennis fan in the country will want to miss.

The action takes place from Friday March 3rd to Sunday March 5th and tickets are on sale now, with discounts for Table Tennis England members!

Friday tickets cost just £5, with Saturday tickets at £12 for adults and £8 for concessions*. On Sunday, when the Men's and Women's Singles champions will be crowned, tickets will cost £15 for adults and £10 for concessions*.

There is also a three-day ticket which costs £29 for adults and £20 for concessions*.

Concession tickets are for students and spectators aged under-16.*

Table Tennis England members can gain a 10% discount in the first week of sales off ALL these prices using a code which will be emailed to all members this morning.

Last year's event sold-out, so book early to avoid disappointment.
