

Carey leads the home front in Cardiff

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: December 15, 2016

Charlotte Carey leads the seeds on home ground at the Cardiff Satellite Grand Prix this weekend.

The Welsh international heads a women's field which has a top four all from the Principality – Megan and Angharad Phillips and Beth Roberts making up the rest of the leading quartet.

By contrast on the men's side of the draw, Darius Knight is No 1 seed is a top 10 which is something of a League of Nations, with no fewer than seven nationalities present.

Among them is Artur Daniel of Poland, a semi-finalist at the season-ending London Grand Prix in June, along with representatives from Japan, Nigeria, Wales, Scotland and Ireland.

The event is at the Sports Wales National Centre at Sophia Gardens.

Click here to view the draw and the rest of the event programme.

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/featured-news/carey-leads-the-home-front-in-cardiff/>