

CORPORATE TABLE TENNIS

Challenge goes out to London companies

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: January 12, 2017

Corporate Table Tennis have announced the launch of a brand new and exciting annual team event starting in March 2017.

Teams of three colleagues from organisations and companies across London will battle through qualifying rounds aiming to progress to the finals day and a chance to become the best workplace-based team in London.

Teams will be matched locally to avoid travel and will not be expected to play more than one midweek evening match per month, meaning the event suits even the busiest diaries in London.

The competition is intended for all standards of table tennis player and promotes team-building, networking and social interaction in the workplace.

Current entrants include Barclays, CIL Management Consultants, Hubble and Right of Light Consultants.

Dazzle your colleagues with incredible table tennis skills by entering today or making contact via the www.corporatetabletennis.co.uk website.

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/national-news/challenge-goes-out-to-london-companies/>