The Grand Prix series is ready for a thrilling climax in London later this month – and entries will close on Sunday.

The final stop of the season-long series is at the Jean Brown Arena in Redbridge on May 20 and 21, when the winners will be crowned in every competition.

Not only that, but it will be Welsh legend Ryan Jenkins' swansong as he retires, ending a Grand Prix career which has seen him rack up more than 50 event victories.

With only a few more days left to enter, don't delay – we hope to see you in Redbridge!
