

PG Mutual boss: Why I love table tennis

Author: Paul Stimpson

Posted On: May 19, 2017

The boss of PG Mutual, sponsors of the National Championships for the past two years, has been talking about his love for table tennis.

The company's Chief Executive, Mike Perry, was an avid player in his youth and returned to the sport in later years and is now a regular in the Bedford & District League.

In the video below, he talks about his table tennis career plus how the sponsorship of the Nationals came about.

PG Mutual, who provide affordable, tailored Income Protection Plus plans, are offering a special deal for Table Tennis England members of 20% off your first two years' subscriptions*.

Click here for a quick quote via the PG Mutual website. Entering the code 'TTE' will enable the 20% discount.

*For t's&c's and full details, click here.

Downloaded From:

<https://newsarchive.tabletennisengland.co.uk/news/featured-news/pg-mutual-boss-why-i-love-table-tennis/>