Ping! is back and bigger than ever, bringing summer outdoor fun and activity to public spaces all over England and promising to make it a great eighth year of the annual extravaganza. An unprecedented 24 towns and cities are welcoming table tennis tables this summer, providing free to use equipment and encouraging everyone to grab a bat and ball and get playing!

The South West welcomes the New Forest to the party this year, who had a successful launch on June 10th.

Make sure you check out your local Ping website for updated table locations and full details of events, tournaments, challenges and competitions you can get involved in this summer!
