Don't miss your chance to secure tickets for the ITTF Team World Cup – and benefit from our 15% membership discount offer.

There is one more week to go before the members' exclusive pre-registration period closes on October 11, so be sure to sign up now and get your discount on general admission tickets.

Tickets go on general sale on November 1 and the full pricing structure will be released next week.

There will be an ongoing opportunity for clubs affiliated to Table Tennis England to enjoy a 15% group booking discount when buying a minimum of 10 tickets – more details will be released next week. If your club is interested, then please contact us at marketing@tabletennisengland.co.uk

Pre-Register for tickets

Ticket pre-registration has now closed. If you have pre-registered, you will be contacted by our partners The Ticket Factory in the coming days to arrange your ticket purchases and apply the 15% discount, before tickets go on general sale on November 1, 2017.

More about the event

The ITTF Team World Cup is the second most prestigious event on the ITTF calendar, after the World Championships. The 2018 edition is being hosted by Table Tennis England at the iconic Copper Box Arena in London's Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park from February 22-25, 2018.

The world's best players, including the Chinese and Japanese men's teams which finished above England at the 2016 World Team Championships, will be showing their skills at a venue dubbed the 'Box That Rocks' because of the atmosphere generated by spectators during the London Olympics and Paralympics.

England's men have qualified by rights for the event by virtue of their bronze medal at the World Championships in 2016, while the women's team will have a host-nation place.

A total of 12 men's and 12 women's teams will be competing. The rest of the field will comprise the six continental champions and the other top finishers at the 2016 World Championships.

Volunteers

Table Tennis England will be recruiting a team of volunteers for the event – details will be released in the next fortnight. In the meantime, if you are interested, please drop us a line at marketing@tabletennisengland.co.uk
