Gemma McKay has been presented with her Young Volunteer of the Year Award at Littleton TTC.

Gemma, who started playing in 2007 and progressed to play for Worcestershire at Cadet, Junior and now Senior level, received the award from Table Tennis England Vice President Lynda Reid.

Whilst at Evesham High School she was part of the Under-16 Girls' Team which became National Schools Champions and while studying at Bristol Sports Academy was in the mixed doubles team which won the British Universities and Colleges Sports competition.

This year Gemma has completed her Level 2 Coaching course and is in her last year at University of Gloucester studying Sports Coaching and Development where she coaches and organises the University team.
